Shortly before time for the south bound train, Sgt. Wilson and Const. Bissett found him hiding in the ditch waiting to board the train. STAVELY FARMER FOUND SHOT DEAD

Stavely, Max M., 600, Markle, age 42, north of Stavely, was found dead in his bedroom, Sunday morning, by his wife. Two bullet wounds were found in his throat and two holes in the ceiling. It is not determined whether the wounds were self-inflicted. Mr. Markle was a married man with one child, a son, 10. He has been living in the Stavely district a year but previously had farmed at Claresholm, where he was well known. Mystery surrounds the shooting and no motive can be given. A .25-35 rifle was used.

Stavely, Max M., an over 60, was murdered late yesterday in the house on the body of Otto Markle, 40, farmer of this district found dead by his wife Sunday morning. The funeral will be held today at Claresholm where he lived a number of years. The jury was out two hours. According to the story told by his wife she was outside doing the chores when the shots were fired. She rushing the bedroom she found her husband dead with a high-powered rifle lying beside his head. There were two bullet wounds in his breast and while the evidence pointed to suicide, the jurors left the point open, it may have been accidental. Some thought in the latter case, given when the wife testified that her husband always kept the gun loaded, and that so far as she knew he had no reason to end his life. They were happy and well-to-do. Financial worry, Dr. Stewart said the presiding doctor.

CLARESHOLM WINS FROM HUSTLERS

Before well filled bleachers at Mewata park, Calgary, Wednesday evening, Claresholm defeated the Hustlers 3 to 2 in an exciting baseball fixture. Notwithstanding the rain earlier in the afternoon the diamond was in fair shape and the game went the full nine innings with a ninth inning rally by the Hustlers furnishing an exciting finish.

It was a feature hurling duel with Dolger Lewis opposing Bill Walker of the Hustlers. Both pitchers threw steady games, with Lewis striking out 12 and Walker 6.

With one away in the sixth inning, Thompson off Claresholm got on by an error and stole second, coming home on Gaimor's two-base hit to left field. Lewis went out on a fly ball and Oquist reached first on another error, went to second on Greenway's single, and scored when he made a dash for third and the ball was thrown wild. Gaimor scored ahead of him.

An exciting finish was brought into the game when the Hustlers went to bat for the last time. Smith walked and Matheson sent out a safe hit; the next man up struck out and Murphy went to bat. The crowd was shouting for a hit and Murphy faced the ball just third for a single and Smith made home from second. Matheson stopped at third and Murphy at second. Another was struck out, and with two men down, Smith marched to the plate, facing the ball into deep left center, but Greenway ran back and made a wonderful catch to end the game.

Naturally, there was much rejoicing in Claresholm when news of the victory came over the wire Wednesday night.

Blue Sky Laws Badly Needed

With better than now prevailing and business extending in all directions, work plentiful and wages paid, few prospective salaried or stock or all manner of companies are again taken in evidence. Many of the positions held before people who have a few dollars to invest are sound enough, others are speculative to a degree, with the probabilities that any money invested will be lost, or at best, will not be productive of dividends for years to come. This, however, the prospective holder up to the state of the present economy, the greater the possibility that the investment is a decidedly risky one, in fact, not an investment at all.

Unfortunately, it is an extremely difficult matter for anybody but an expert or those who make it their business to keep fully informed to distinguish between the good and the bad of the stock-selling propositions presented to the general public. The only safe course, to follow before making investment in any stock is to consult a broker or some reputable financial institution. It is better to be safe than sorry.

It is furthermore unfortunate that the company law of Canada does not provide adequate protection of the public against these professional promoters of questionable stocks and so-called securities. Canada has reason to be proud of its general code of laws, but in this one respect the Dominion of Parliament has been sadly neglected in its duty. In that it has not provided adequate against the people of Canada being victimized by persons and corporations offering questionable stock for sale to an unsuspecting public.

Some provincial governments have endeavored to protect their people only to have their best efforts largely defeated because of the refusal of the Dominion Legislature to supplement those efforts. As a result thousands of Canadians every year are robbed of millions of hard-earned savings.

For example, some years ago the Saskatchewan Legislature passed an act prohibiting the sale of stocks of any kind within the Province unless the Company offering the same first submitted their proposals to the Local Government Board and obtained its approval. This act was intended to protect the stock being offered for public subscription. Certain companies incorporated under Dominion charters challenged the right of the Province to restrict their stock-selling activities, and upon an appeal to the court, the Saskatchewan law was declared invalid. It was held that the Province, in this case, was acting in excess of its powers. The situation, therefore, is that any company holding a provincial charter and whose stock the Saskatchewan Local Government Board will not permit being sold within the Province, must obtain Dominion incorporation at Ottawa, pay off the Saskatchewan Legislature and sell any kind of stock it likes, good or bad.

It will be recalled that much the same situation existed when the Province first adopted protective liquor laws. The Province could not prohibit the retail sale of liquor, but they were powerless to stop its manufacture within their boundaries, and equally powerless to prevent it being brought into the Province from other provinces or foreign countries, because this would be to interfere with trade and commerce which come under the Dominion jurisdiction. The result was that the Province was left with the power to regulate the sale of liquor, but not to prevent its manufacture or importation. It became unlawful under Dominion law to ship liquor into that Province.

There is need for a similar enactment in relation to Company Incorporation. That is to need a very simple amendment by the Parliament of Canada to the effect that where any Province has an act prohibiting the sale of stock in any company unless the same has first been approved by Provincial authorities, such law shall be applicable to a company incorporated under Dominion charters in so far as that Province is concerned.

In the average citizen, there would appear to be no insuperable difficulty in the passage of such a simple and reasonable amendment. In fact, the average citizen would imagine that the Dominion Government would be just as anxious as Provincial Governments to protect their people from being victimized by unscrupulous company promoters and stock salesmen. The amazing thing is that, notwithstanding pressure from Provincial Governments, representing the people, the Dominion Government has not yet introduced any financial and other papers, the Ottawa Government continues to do anything to protect the people from being victimized by stock salesmen. It is time that the Dominion Government should take steps to protect the people from being victimized by stock salesmen.

Representations have for some months past been made to one Provincial Government regarding the operations of one of these high pressure stock-selling companies, and the same Government has been asked to take action, but all the Provincial authorities can do is to inform they are powerless because the Company in question operates under a Dominion charter.

And within recent weeks this very Company has been shown up in its remarkable financial record. It is reported that the company has received a dividend of $100,000, which considerably more than $100,000 was the price of a subsidiary company as "commission" for selling the stock. In fact, the parent manufacturing company has less than one dollar to show for every two dollars invested by the public. Not only so, but the Company has never declared a dividend, and the every dollar of money it has made has been used to pay the cost of the company's expenses. It is time that the Dominion Government should take steps to protect the people from being victimized by stock salesmen.

It is time that a certain cabinet minister at Ottawa should find himself from the influence of a reactionary and autocratic deputy head and directed legislation to be presented to Parliament as the next session regarding and not legislative rubber, which is a blot on the fair name of Canada.

Most men would be glad to pay a large income tax for the sake of having that kind of income.

It takes a man with a lot of brains to discuss a 40¢ bottle.

Canadian Offices in London

Offices of Immigration and Trade and Commerce May be Combined

Hon. Robert Dwyer, Canadian minister of immigration, and Hon. James Macdonald, minister of trade and commerce, will jointly consider the possibility of combining in one building the branch offices in Britain and in the Dominion. At their present headquarters, it is understood, such a procedure would eliminate duplication of premises and in a certain way duplication of office staff.

Mr. Macdonald has already expressed his opinion that the allocation of $100,000 for improving Canadian goods in Britain will not cost very far in making a widespread appeal. It is understood that one suggestion for a building in London is to build a large store for general advertisement. Canada should pay a proportion of the cost in whatever amount of share calls attention especially to Canadian goods.

Survey of Hudson Strait

Objection is Taken to the Term "Arctic" in Describing Canadian Waters. President J. A. Stettin, of the Saskatchewan section, United Farmers of Canada, objects against the Canadian Press dispatch of April 25, regarding the air survey of Hudson Strait, in which it is stated that the conditions of the strait are Arctic.

In reply, J. E. B. Liversay, general manager of the Canadian Press, explains that the term "Arctic" is used in a descriptive sense, and is not intended to be taken as a term of reproach. The strait is used here in descriptive sense, and is not intended to be taken as a term of reproach.

In conclusion, Mr. Liversay says: "The object of the expedition is to report more fully than has been done hitherto on the point of navigation of the Hudson Strait. The strait is used here in descriptive sense, and is not intended to be taken as a term of reproach."

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S QUESTIONS

127. Where Is Whale Fishing Conducted?

The principal whale fisheries today are in the waters adjacent to the Falkland Islands and other island groups lying eastward from southern South America. Arctic whaling is confined to Bering Strait, northwest of Alaska; Beaufort Sea, north of Canada; the seas around Iceland and the Faroe Islands, lying north of the British Isles. Prior to the beginning of the present century whaling in Falkland Islands waters was confined mostly to sperm whale, the finback whales being too rapid in their movements to be captured with the hand harpoon. About 1904 the Norwegians inaugurated the use of the explosive harpoon in capturing the finbacks. Since then the industry has increased enormously.

128. The Principal Products Obtained From the Whale?

While modern whaling is almost mostly for the whale oil, all the carcasses is utilized. The whale oil is obtained by cooking the layer of fat (blubber) which surrounds the whale's body; is used mostly for soap making, lubrication, tallow oil and for hardening steel. The yield averages about 80 barrels (45 tons) per whale. The bones are used for fertilizer in phosphates and a meal for cattle feed. The baleen, obtained from the head of the sperm whale, is used as a fine hairbrush.

129. How Does Canada Protect Its Vast Forests Against Fire?

Canada is one of the first countries to use the airplane for fire protection. Much of her timber lies in unsettled areas. Over 1000 forest fires occurred in Canada in 1922, many very destructive. The lookout system of ground control is used wherever possible, and the airplane as an auxiliary. The airplane affords the only means of reaching a fire in remote and impenetrable areas in time to be effective. Ontario has its own fleet of seaplanes, used mainly to carry men and fire-fighting equipment from central stations to the scene of the fire. Alberta has excellent ground service, supplemented by airplanes. In Manitoba seaplanes do most of the work.

130. Where Is Dismal Swamp?

Tract of marsh land about 100 miles lying south of Norfolk, Va., and extending into North Carolina, largely covered with dense forest growth. The tract is fringed by the Chesapeake Bay, and is traversed by several ditches, which afford opportunity for a fascinating study of wild animal and vegetable life at close range. Drummond's Lake, near its center (about three miles across) abounds in fish; is the scene of Thomas Moore's poem "Lake of the Dismal Swamp"; Dismal Swamp Canal, 22 miles long, connects Chesapeake Bay and Albemarle Sound, and forms an important link in the 2,500-mile chain of inland waterways extending from New York to Florida.

131. What Is the U. S. Government Crop Report?

Compiled monthly by the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the Department of Agriculture, it is the most complete and accurate ever devised. Reports cover 95 per cent of the agricultural production; shows acreage, cost, estimated or actual yield; also a comparison with previous months, same month of previous year, and by-year averages. The crop information is supplied the Bureau by about 220,000 voluntary crop reporters, from every part of the country. The largest group reports on small areas, like townships; an independent group on counties; and about 40 field agents, with their own reporters, report on whole states. Summaries of these three independent reports form the basis of the reports.

132. How Is the Crop Information Compiled?

On crop report day the Crop Reporting Board makes a careful and complete analysis of the various reports. During this time all telephones are disconnected, and no one permitted to enter the office building. As fast as the condition figures are determined, a corps of experts converts them into estimates of yield per acre for each state and for the U. S.

133. What Are the Rhodes Scholarships?

Cecil John Rhodes, British Colonial statesman, born in 1853, died in 1902. With the bulk of his vast fortune, accumulated in the Kimberly diamond fields, he endowed 125 Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University for British Colonial, United States and German students. To be eligible a candidate must be a male citizen, over 17 and not over 25 years, and have a superior standing.  Services will be held as follows:
 8 a.m.—Holy communion.

11 a.m.—Holy communion with sermon. Subject, "The Work of the Holy Spirit."

Preacher, Rev. W. Barlow, L.Th.
 Whitsunday is one of the great church festivals of the year. We have three great festivals in our church service representing three steps in the life of our Lord: 1. Christmas, His birth; 2. Easter, His resurrection; 3. Whitsunday, the coming of the Holy Spirit.

Come and hear what the work of the Holy Spirit is. We ask all our church members to try and be present for holy communion at one of these services.

12 o'clock—Sunday school and Bible class.

All are welcome. Bright service.

On Thursday, June 8th, an induction service will be held at 7.30 p.m. when the Right Rev. I. R. Sherman, D.D., Lord Bishop of Calgary, will induct Rev. W. Barlow, L.Th., as incumbent of Clareholm and Nanton Parishes. The Bishop will be assisted by Rev. C. Swanson, B.A., Rural Dean of Lethbridge and the clergy from the Deanery. The Bishop will preach the sermon.

After the induction service, a reception will be held in the Parish Hall where the Bishop will meet the citizens of Clareholm. Refreshments will be served at the reception by the Ladies Guild.

This is a public service and all are invited, and will be welcome to attend. As our church is small we ask you to come early to get a comfortable seat. There are no reserved seats, only the chair stalls which will be reserved for the clergy.

The program for the day will be as follows:

8 a.m.—Holy Communion
 7.30 a.m.—Business Session

CHAUTAUQUA PLAY - "GIVE AND TAKE" - A comedy-drama full of fun, laughter and romance.

After a few days of fair weather rain again set in last Saturday morning and kept it up till mid-afternoon on Monday, with wet snow in the early hours of Monday morning. There have been showers every day since. Seeding of oats and barley is being delayed by the wet weather.

According to the Calgary Herald of recent date, "Much praise can be given to Bert Johnston's 'Big Magic and Fun Show,' coming to the Rex Theatre, Clareholm, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 13-14-15. 'His entire program is interesting and very entertaining and leaves no doubt in the minds of the large audiences that Johnston is one of the leading sleight-of-hand artists and magicians on the legitimate stage today, being versatile and clever in all his presentations.'"

"Other members of the company include Madam Muriel, one of the most wonderful women in the world. The woman 'who knows' was the only mentalist in America who accepted and successfully passed the acid test given by the 'Show World' at their offices in Chicago, on December 21, 1916, and the only woman in the world who predicted the correct day and date of the signing of the armistice and ending of the World War. You can ask her any question she will answer."

CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

The following are some of the features that will appear on the Chautauqua program this season:

The Schubert Quartet, Canada's foremost singing four, with programs including opera, classics of the great masters, sacred, secular and novelty numbers as well as musical comedy and popular selections.

The John Ross Reed Company, which is more than a group of talented artists, for they combine voices of sterling quality with rare dramatic ability.

"Smilin' Tim," a play of unprecedented popularity, presented by the Martin Erwin Players.

J. Smith Dameron, the potter-craftsman, with a lecture full of the brightest and best thought.
